

al goes dental /1/ making a stand

Al comes home from work, expecting a supper.

AL: Hi Peg. Where's my supper? I know you cooked me supper tonight. You didn't? Not _____ dessert?

PEGGY: Oh honey, what do you want from me? You're at work 10 hours a day. Can't you find something to eat in all that time? This is a home, not a restaurant.

AL: I know Peg, if it was a restaurant, we would have a clean bathroom.

PEGGY: Can't you be like other husbands? Just come home, go upstairs and sit there quietly til morning?

AL: Peg, I'm _____ to death. I can't live like this. Now, I'm telling you, Peg, I want you to put something in that oven - _____ food or my head. _____ way, the neighbours will smell something cooking. Now Peg, I'm making a stand here, I'm not kidding. I want a meal, I want it now. _____ it?

PEGGY: Huh? What did you say, Al? I'm sorry, I wasn't listening.

AL: Gee, I dunno, just something about me _____ a man, it wasn't important.

Kelly and Bud come in and hang up their coats.

AL: Kids, I'm glad you're home, because I'm taking a poll.

KELLY: Where are you gonna put a _____ ?

BUD: Well, we can put it in your head so we have a place to hang the sign that says, "DUH".

KELLY: Oh, that's just great. You _____ let me get a nose earring, but you're gonna put a pole in my head.

AL: All right, we're gonna have a vote.

KELLY: I thought we were gonna have a pole.

AL: All those in _____ of having your mother cook? Three. Opposed? _____. That's it, Peg, you're cooking. I don't _____ if it's breakfast, lunch or dinner but I want it hot, and I'll tell you something else. I want it on a plate. Peg, the neighbours are all laughing at me.

BUD: And everyone at school, too, Dad.

AL: Oh, that's it, from now _____ , this family's going to be like every other family in America. Sometime this month we're gonna eat.

PEGGY: Ok, I'll make one meal. But it's not going to be good.

AL: That's _____ we ask.

KELLY: Oh, Mom, one more thing. The School Nurse, she says it's time to go to the dentist and get our annual _____ .

PEGGY: Ok, we'll make an appointment.
