and no, it doesn't matter what your sister says I've heard you call her a liar before what she's doing is defending you by making up stories about some guy visiting you and making you act tough around the kids a person like that can't be trusted and neither can the kid's father, whoever he is you don't seem to know who the father is, do you? unless you put things right we may have to put the kid in a home where you won't be allowed to visit him
