

carried away (3) a nervous strutter

Miranda: What's the difference between strutting down a runway and the _____ you strut down Fifth Avenue?

Carrie: Did you just call me a strutter? Do I strut? Can you really see me walking down a runway _____ all the people staring at me and judging me?

Miranda: No one is going to judge you. People don't do that _____ .

Carrie: What are you talking about? Judging celebrities is _____ we _____ do. If it wasn't _____ models and actors, we'd have nothing to talk about.

Miranda: Granted, you and I _____ judge models. But the thing is, not everyone else _____. Besides, you're not a model, you're a real person.

Carrie: Exactly, and I don't want people to think that I'm incapable _____ seeing the difference between a model and me. I'd hate to come _____ as some sort of a snotty old lady who needs to be knocked _____ her high horse.

Miranda: Who gives a _____ what people think? This is _____ a fabulous opportunity. Besides, you'll probably _____ to keep the clothes. Isn't that tempting _____ ?

Carrie: I've thought of that. That would be kind of fun, wouldn't it?

Miranda: I'd do it in a New York minute. _____ would every one of your friends. So go _____ and sign _____ before they reconsider.
