

ellen's dad /5/ a rough night

I'm very impressed, Alex has fine organizational qualities. we've been aware of that ever since he was in the diapers

Ellen has been a great influence on Alex, he's almost to the point where he can say „feminist“ without laughing where have you been? I was waiting downstairs the important thing is we're all together may I have this dance?

I don't really enjoy dancing. – it's your major you always said dancing was a waste of time. – well, maybe I changed my mind. people do that, you know. even fathers. – whatever you say listen, I don't enjoy being treated like a stranger.

– who are we kidding? we are strangers do we have to get into this? I don't expect anything from you. I don't want you to try to make up for lost time all my life you've either been ignoring me or criticizing me. nothing I ever did was good enough for you if I said yes, you said no, just for the hell of disagreeing with me why don't we make a new start?

I can make it on my own now

Alex knows there is more to life than making money you can't blame yourself for everything that happened I brought this all on myself. I called Mr Reed without asking Ellen. as a result, I helped break up an already shaky relationship sorry, it's been a rough night. – thanks. I appreciate it if it wasn't for my calling your father and pressuring you to meet him, none of this would have happened.
– it would have happened eventually. you just kind of sped the whole thing up we have our share of fights but that's all they are. we have it out, they see where they were wrong and it's over. we never stop caring about each other I tied my briefcase to the end of a stick and set out. I got as far as Skippy's house deep down inside I like him too. it's like we try to reach out but we don't know how I just came by to say a proper goodbye. we may not be seeing each other for a while despite the circumstances the pictures came out all right. -- I'm sort of smirking. – sometimes you take what you can get I'm not the easiest man in the world to get along with have a good trip back
