

we figured that instead of getting him a gift from a catalogue, we'd make him a ski sweater

I didn't know you two knew how to knit – we don't, but he doesn't know how to ski

I'm looking for an Alex Keaton – well, I happen to be one we were supposed to meet at her dorm room but she wasn't there and her roommate told me I might find her here she'll be here any minute. in the meantime, make yourself comfortable

Ellen tells me you're rich. that is, richly deserving of many compliments what are you? a dancer, a poet, a communist? -- absolutely not. I'm against all those things. I stand before you as the representative of all that is good and decent in this country.

and I may add I'm very sympathetic to the upper classes that's refreshing. I assumed you'd be one of those parasite hippie types getting back to your wealth, I hear you're a corporate lawyer -- I didn't know you were interested in the law we were going to meet at the dorm but he never showed up that's what you said, I'm not making this up you know you two look alike?

I'm impressed with Alex, he's a straight thinker, he's got his priorities in line

I expected him to be one of your art boobs art happens to mean a lot to me although I know you don't appreciate it
