

family guy /3/ wrong decisions

do you have kids? were they born soon after the wedding? what is your relationship with them? do you like all of them equally? what do they think of you?

We have two kids. The first one was born shortly after the wedding. Actually, if my wife 1 pregnant then, maybe we 2 up instead 3 married. We 4 all that well back then, in fact 5 we were drifting apart. Sometimes I 6 broken up. There's 7 a relationship going 8 you really 9. Each of us 10 with a totally different kind of partner right now. Anyway, we 11 and then decided 12 divorced. Then we 13 that a second child might 14 work. Well, 15 it doesn't 16. 17 the kids, my relationship with them isn't 18 I would 19.

why is it that you and your kids don't really get along? whose fault is it? do you wish you had done something differently when they were younger? is there a way to fix this or will you have to get used to it?

I have to admit I wasn't 1 good father. When the kids were little, I was always 2 or 3 with my friends. Then one day I woke up and 4 that they 5 and didn't need me 6. 7, I 8 today but it's no 9 spilt milk, right? I 10 some mistakes in my life but you know, a man's gotta do what a man's gotta do. Please don't ask me 11 questions or I'll cry. Oh, I never 12 you to ask me all those questions. You've just 13 that my life stinks.
