

hi everyone, my name is Jennie and I would like to tell you about my life

I was born in Iowa but our family moved to LA when I was six

I'll be fifteen next month which means we have lived in LA for almost ten years next year we will be moving again my mom works at a university and she has been offered a better position we will be able to choose one of four places to move to we've been talking about it for months but we haven't decided which place we like best actually, we don't have to decide until next month there are a lot of cities we could live in but I think I would be bored living in the countryside

I should also tell you that I'm still in high school and I'm thinking of getting a job this summer let me tell you more about it, ok?
