The first guy on was talking kick Saddam Hussein's ass like we did last year. ain't a tired enough topic., I had to drop in another quarter because my five minutes were up.

THE SECOND CALLER, 'cause he wasn't even there when they got to him. (I) I don't even know what the third guy said. He was wheezing like a geezer. He was probably on the radio.! I when I got on the air. I was gonna listeners all over the whole area would know that Jim Anchower was the voice of authority coming to set them straight.

THE FOURTH CALLER CAME ON, and,, it was that no-good Ron. What a dumbass! my money and my beer, but now he steals my valuable radio time! And, like a jackass. First off, he, so there was this awful feedback. (..... do that!) Then he spent about five minutes acting like a total lame, going off about how great it was to be on with Dave and Stu.
