

joanna /1/ it was a very good interview

Rachel's office, Rachel is confronting Joanna about her interview.

Rachel: Joanna? Do you mind if we talk about that interview we just had?

Joanna: Sure. I thought it went very well.

Rachel: No. It didn't. That's what I want to talk to you about. Now, just to brief you, I may cry, but they are not tears of sadness or of anger, but just of me having this discussion with you.

Joanna: Rachel, please, don't make a scene.

Rachel: There's nobody here.

Joanna: Sophie, get in here. You see. Now you're making Sophie uncomfortable. Get out now, Sophie. I don't need you here anymore.

Rachel: I can't believe you treat poor Sophie like that. Anyway, back to my job. Do you want me to quit?

Joanna: What would make you think that?

Rachel: Well, those things that you said in the interview, I mean, if you believe any of them, I cannot possibly be a very good assistant.

Joanna: Oh, you mean those silly remarks? I was just making those up. I figured the interview was getting a little dull.

Rachel: Whatever, Joanna.
