

joanna /1/ it was a very good interview

Rachel is confronting Joanna, her boss, about an interview she just had.

Rachel: Joanna? Do you _____ if we talk about that interview we just had?

Joanna: Sure. I thought it _____ very well.

Rachel: No. It didn't. That's what I want to talk to you about. Now, just to brief you, I _____ cry, but they are not tears of sadness or of anger, but just of me _____ this discussion with you.

Joanna: Rachel, please, don't make a _____ .

Rachel: There's nobody here.

Joanna: Sophie, _____ in here. You see. Now you're making Sophie uncomfortable. Get out now, Sophie. I don't need you here _____ .

Rachel: I can't believe you _____ poor Sophie like that. Anyway, back to my job. Do you want me to quit?

Joanna: What would _____ you think that?

Rachel: Well, those things that you said in the interview, I mean, if you believe any of them, I cannot _____ be a very good assistant.

Joanna: Oh, you mean those silly remarks? I was just _____ those up. I figured the interview was _____ a little dull.

Rachel: _____ , Joanna.
