

THE LADY WRITES A YOUNG LEADER NAMED BLAIR

As far as public news _____, radio and TV and papers are full of the general election on May 1 (fortunately not April 1 which is here called April Fools' Day). Everybody is _____ and politics and politicians are _____ a disgrace, _____ the ruling party, the Conservatives, which as usual are full of scandal - corruption, sex, 'sleaze' and everyone is talking as if Labour will undoubtedly _____.

However, it _____ that (by slashing the social services, education and the National Health Service so that they hardly exist any more) they have succeeded _____ the economy going again so that it is about the strongest in Europe. Many people feel that Labour, _____ inexperienced, _____ so successful, though the new young Labour leader, Tony Blair is highly regarded as honest and sincere. It's hard to know what to vote.

_____ the IRA are planting bombs on motorways, railway stations & at the Grand National (major horserace) to cause disruption but _____ no messy killings, as they are hoping to find favour with the new government after the election. Bastards.

being » currently considered » get elected » in getting » in the meantime » is concerned » may well not be » must be said » particularly » preferably » sick of it all