

THE LADY WRITES CARL, TOM AND THE BALD SCULPTOR

It was fun, however, seeing Carl and we _____ Tom very friendly and with quite a decent _____ of English and quite a few good words of his own. Carl's English had vastly improved, though we had a bit of difficulty now and again in getting our message _____. We both _____ we could use the _____ simultaneous translation of SEMTEX WOMAN (Carl's wonderful description of you) to give sparkle to our conversation.

_____, we only saw them for a few days, and on the second day we all drank so much and stayed up so late that we were too ill to _____ much of the rest. Guy and Leena next door invited us all in for supper, but by _____ our poor visitors were in extremis. We delivered them, shaking, to the _____ sculptor whose name I _____, who was whirling them off to a huge lunch and lots of drink. I _____ whether they would survive the trip.

---

across » amazing » anyway » bald » enjoy » forget » found » grasp » then » wished » wondered