

I wonder why we lost touch /2/ in the store

I actually think Terri had a crush on me because whenever I would come to visit her she would stare at me non-stop and find a reason to touch me in some way. One night she was calling one of her friends and when she was asking to speak to her friend she said my name by mistake when she was supposed to say her friend's name who she was calling for.

But everything seemed fine that night. When I was leaving Terri smiled and then laughed at me because I almost fell. We said goodbye and everything. But after that night she just stopped calling me and it's been about a year since the last time I talked to her.

I saw her in the store about a week ago and she looked shocked to see me. At first it seemed like she was trying to avoid meeting me. She seemed to try very hard not to look at me. She kept looking away so that our eyes wouldn't meet. But when I went over to talk to her she waved like she was happy to see me and laughed at something I said. I'm confused, I really miss her but I don't know if she misses me.
