

vincent and mia hang out /3/ no mindless chit-chat

MIA: So have you been able to think of something to say?

VINCENT: Actually, there's something I've wanted to ask you about, but you seem like such a nice person, and I didn't want to offend you.

MIA: Oh, this doesn't sound like mindless, boring, getting-to-know-you chit-chat. This sounds like you actually have something to say.

VINCENT: Only if you promise not to get offended.

MIA: You can't promise something like that. I have no idea what you're gonna ask. You could ask me what you're gonna ask me, and my natural response could be to be offended. Then I would have broken my promise.

VINCENT: Then let's just forget it. Let's not talk about it. I don't feel like talking about it anymore anyway.

MIA: You shouldn't have mentioned it at all then. Now it's too late to pretend you don't care what I think. Besides, it's more exciting when you don't have permission.

VINCENT: What do you think about what happened to Antwan?

MIA: He fell out of a window as far as I know.

VINCENT: That's one way to say it. Another way is, he got thrown out. Another way is, he was thrown out by Marsellus. And even another way is, he was thrown out of a window by Marsellus because of you. It's just what I heard.
