

PRISON BREAK /1/ TAJ MAHAL

Pope: My wife's not going to be here til four. She's not supposed to see this until our anniversary.

Michael: What if she turns up early and sees it?

Pope: I have instructed my secretary not to let her come in here under any circumstances. Now, look at this thing. It's coming along nicely, isn't it? You think it'll be done in time?

Michael: Well I figure we still have the interior to do, which is no small task, but yes, I think so.

Pope: Listen, I have to say that I really appreciate all the effort that you're putting into this. I wish there was some way that I could repay you.

Michael: Actually, there is something you could do for me. It's about my cellmate.

Pope: Officer Bellick is in charge of transfers. You're going to have to talk to him about that.

Michael: I tried. But he seems to think we're a good match.

Pope: Has he threatened you?

Michael: Who? My cellmate or Bellick? They both have, actually.

Pope: Unfortunately, unless there's evidence of violence between cellmates, those kind of requests fall on deaf ears around here.

Michael: I don't get it. I figured all requests have to be considered, no matter who they come from or what the complaint is about.

Pope: Look, the prison system's a little too crowded for requests based on personality to be considered. I'm sorry but I don't think there's much I can do.

PRISON BREAK /2/ PROJECT JUSTICE

Lincoln: What are you doing here? Last time you came here, you called me a liar. I didn't think I'd see you again.

Veronica: Things have changed. I got in touch with your sister. She told me your story checks out.

Lincoln: Will she testify?

Veronica: She's missing. I think that the Secret Service got to her. Yeah, they're involved in this, too. As soon as they show up, she disappears. What does that tell you?

Lincoln: I didn't realize it went that high up. Do you know what we're up against?

Veronica: All I know is that it is more than either you or I can handle on our own.

Lincoln: Maybe we'd better talk to Project Justice. You know who they are?

Veronica: I've heard of them.

Lincoln: All they handle is death penalty cases. Why don't you tell them what you found. Maybe it'll be enough to bring them on board. So anyway, how's your boyfriend?

Veronica: What do you mean?

Lincoln: Well, you being here, is he cool with it?

Veronica: I haven't talked to him about it. The engagement's off.

Lincoln: Oh. I'm sorry.

Veronica: You can at least say that like you mean it.

Lincoln: I do.

Veronica: God, you were always a lousy liar. I'd better get to Project Justice.

Lincoln: Veronica, thank you. I didn't have a whole lot left.

Veronica: There will be a lot of time to thank me when I get you out of here.
