

UH revisited (1-2) same old crowd

_____ Carl, he and I haven't really spoken yet. _____ I haven't seen him around but I always think twice before saying hello. He seems to have something _____, but it could be my imagination. Or maybe there's something wrong with his eyes and that's why he ignores me. _____, he looks hideous -- he has black hair which makes him look even more gaunt and white and his dark circles are a lot more obvious now. He looks like a creature _____ have nightmares about. I saw his sister _____ with her boyfriend, so I'm assuming they're still together.

_____ couples, I can't think of any that have broken up while I was gone or even while I was here. This just _____ happens around here. If a couple does break up, it's _____ talks about for months. Funny, isn't it? I mean, what's _____ with this place? Are these guys better at choosing their partners? Or worse at admitting they made _____ choice? It's just something that I used to _____ understanding. At the same time, I'm sure a lot of Americans would be _____ in this kind of society.

all everyone » as for » better off » either way » hanging out » hardly ever » have trouble » not that » speaking of » that zombies » the deal » the wrong » up his ass