

paul's christmas story (2)

don't spoil it

PAUL: Gee, _____ an interesting story. Did you ever go back to see the old lady?

AUGGIE: I did _____, about three or four months later. I felt so bad about stealing the camera, I _____ even used it yet. I finally made up my mind to return it, but Granny Ethel wasn't there _____. Someone else had moved into the apartment, and he couldn't tell me where she was.

PAUL: She _____ have died. _____ means that she spent her last Christmas with you.

AUGGIE: I guess so. I never thought of it that _____.

PAUL: It was a nice thing that you did for her.

AUGGIE: What do you mean, a nice thing? I lied to her, and then I stole from her. I don't see how you can _____ that a good thing.

PAUL: The _____ I see it, you made her happy. And the camera was stolen _____. It's not as if the person you took it from really owned it.

AUGGIE: I guess you're right.

PAUL: Tell me, did this actually happen or did you _____ it all up? I mean, either way, it's a great story.

AUGGIE: Let me tell you something. You hear a good story, you don't really want to _____ it by trying to _____ out if it's true or not.

PAUL: I'm with you. Thanks for helping me out.

AUGGIE: You're _____. And remember, there's more where that came from.
