

yoga class (2) the real deal

Lauren: I get it, but if I broke the rules for you, I'd _____ to break them for the other moms too, and then the moms who actually follow the rules would get all _____ at me, and I'd have to get pissy right back, and before you know it, I don't have time to read my magazine. See how that works?

Lynette: I hope some day you have lots of children. Then you'll see what it's like to spend your days _____ to fit some fun stuff into your busy _____. No sense of _____, either, I guarantee you that.

Lauren: Actually, I'm not planning on having kids. Ever. Because seeing what I see here every day makes me think it's simply not _____ it. Now, I may change my mind when I get older but frankly, it's _____.

Lynette: I wish I could tell you that you're making a big mistake. On _____ thought, you are. You really are _____ it may not seem that way right now.

Lauren: The way I see it, you made your bed, now you have to lie in it. And stop trying to _____ me into having kids. You're so judgmental. Listen to yourself. And then you have the nerve to come around asking for _____?

Lynette: You're just loving this, aren't you? Well, let me tell you what the real _____ is with kids.

Lauren: Go ahead, I can't wait to hear it. What fun stuff am I going to _____ out on by not having them?

Lynette: Ok, here's what's gonna happen next. Either you _____ and do have kids one day and then go through the same crap that I'm going through right now. Or you won't and you'll spend half your life regretting it. Either way, you don't _____ to win. No one does.
